

Augusia Military Academy

Theme Explanation

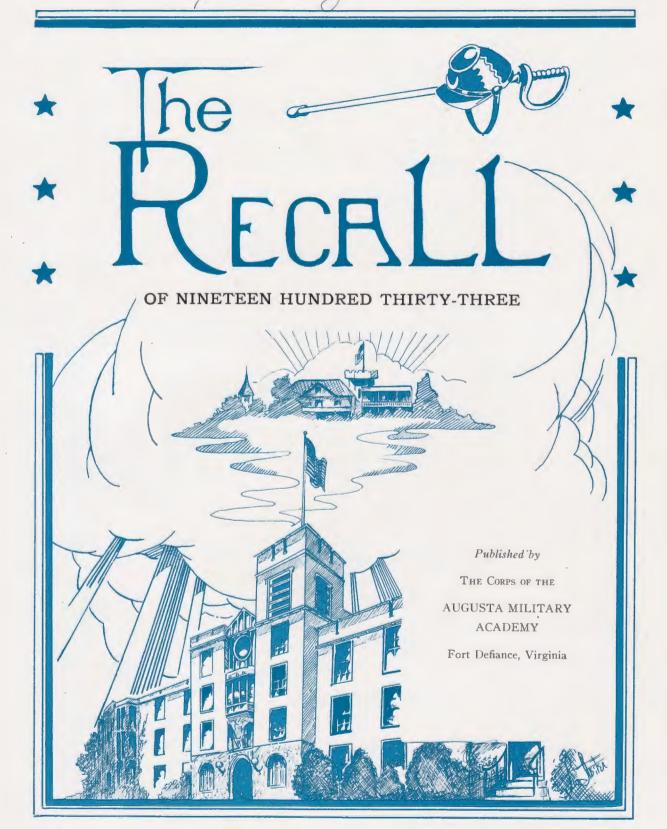

N THIS edition of our annual publication we attempt to recall the founding of our school and to bring into prominence the events during and immediately following the founding. It is our desire to link the old school with the new, to portray the evolution of our alma mater from the little school founded by Colonel Roller, to the present institution. We have done this, mainly in the art work, by picturing some scene of the "Old School" period at the beginning of each department, and a glimpse of the new school life at the close.

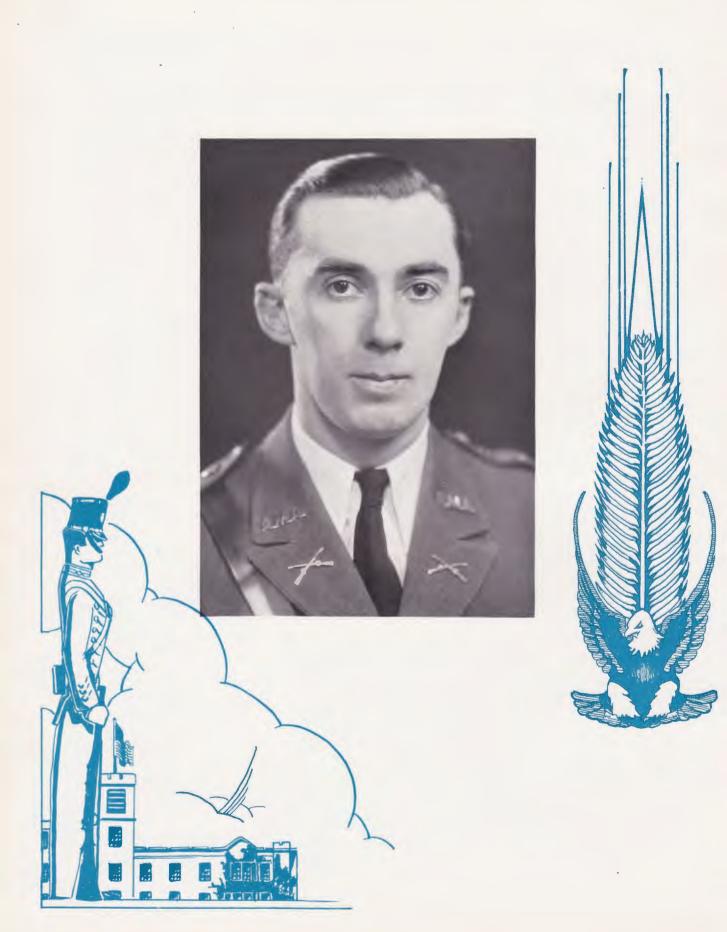

Immediately after the Civil War the South was still in the midst of confusion, and naturally the educational problem was as serious, if not more so, than any of the "Reconstruction" problems which the states of the Confederacy had to meet. Colonel Roller, father of the present co-principals, proceeded to solve this problem for the immediate vicinity of Fort Defiance by the founding of the Augusta Male Academy. After attendance had greatly increased, Colonel Roller reorganized the school and changed its name to the Augusta Military Academy; this was in 1888. Since that time the school has grown into recognition and prominence as one of the finest prep schools in the South.

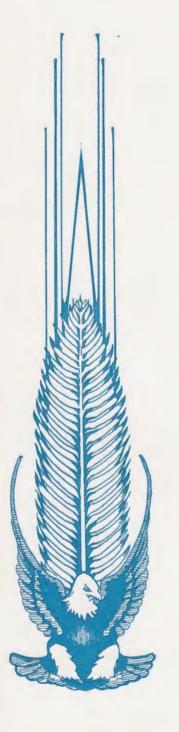

We endeavor to focus interest on this "old school," and to show the development of each department.

History of The School

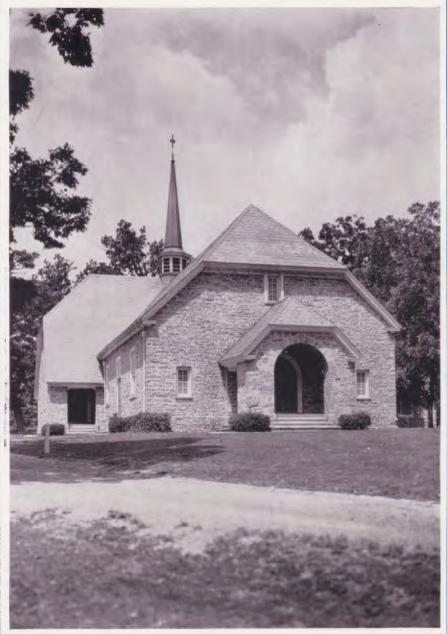

THE founding of Augusta was due to the inspiration of a comparatively young man—Professor Charles S. Roller. Having recently graduated from the University of Virginia, he enlisted in the army of the Confederacy during April, 1865. He served in Stuart's Cavalry throughout the war. At the close of the war Professor Roller realized that the tutorial system of education in the South was at an end. With their fortunes invested in worthless Confederate currency, the Southerners were no longer able to employ private tutors. In order that the education of the younger generation might continue, Professor Roller took upon himself the task of educating them. In the grove of the Augusta Stone Church stood a small brick building; this was one of the oldest buildings in the community, being a relic of pioneer days. This building became "the little red schoolhouse," for it was there in 1865 that Colonel Roller commenced his instruction. After an interval of four years, during which time he served as a member of the Virginia Legislature at Richmond, Professor Roller resumed his teaching. In the few years which followed the attendance at the little red school greatly increased. Not only were the boys in the community attending, but outsiders began to board in the neighborhood. Fired by the vision of educating the youth, Professor Roller acquired a portion of the present estate in 1874. Here he built his home and erected an adjoining building for the school. When asked why he was building quite some distance from the Valley Pike. Professor replied that he had visionary hopes of establishing a permanent school-Upon the founding of the Augusta Male Academy, as this present school was then named, Professor Roller began his life's work. He earnestly and faithfully performed his duty as an educator until his death. William H. Landes and Sumpter Smith, prominent educators, greatly assisted the "Old Boss" in such a noble occupation.

From 1880 the school developed rapidly, due to the increasing enrollment. Many improvements in the school property were made. In 1888 the name was changed from the Augusta Male Academy to the Augusta Military Academy. The principal-ship of the school was changed in 1907, occasioned by the death of Professor Roller. His two sons, Colonel Thomas J. Roller and Major Charles S. Roller, Jr., became co-principals of the school. In spite of their youth they proved to be competent executors. Like their father, they, too, have devoted the best of their years in the education of the youth.

Assembly Hall was built and dedicated as a memorial to the founder of the school in 1909, one year after his death. The present masonry barracks was erected in 1915. At the same time the Clay Bowl was completed. An outdoor swimming pool was built in 1925, and enclosed in 1928. In the same year the beautiful Augusta Gymnasium was erected.

In the development from the red schoolhouse of 1865 to the Augusta Military Academy of 1933 an appropriate monument has been erected to the inspired vision of its founder, Professor Charles S. Roller, and to the life-time dedication of the co-principals, Colonel Thomas J. Roller and Major Charles S. Roller, Jr.

The temple of the Lord, wherein each boy communes with his God. This old church, hallowed by the ages, forms a very definite part of the cadet life, in that it brings the boy into touch with his Creator.

The avenues of our domicile have a unique significance to all world-weary cadets who, faint from the rigours of a hectic day, trod them to their rooms and to rest.

ACADEMY

COLONEL T. J. ROLLER

Colonel Roller, judged by any standard, looms as a great figure: because of his lifelong devotion to the cause of secondary education, which has thrust him into prominence as a nationally known educator; because of his acute insight into academic and administrative affairs of the school; because of his conservatively sound business acumen; and because of his excellent example of right living.

It is, however, his personalitty that seems to be his outstanding characteristic. Under his serene outward appearance, which is only slightly belied by his twinkling eye, we find ready wit, genuine sympathy, quick appreciation, and encouragement.

MAJOR CHARLES S. ROLLER, JR.

Builder of men, moulder of character, wise counsellor in time of stress, these attributes hardly begin the list, descriptive of our Commandant. Major Roller possesses that extra spark of genius that distinguishes great men from the near-great. Throughout life, he has been a leader and helper of men; in college at V. M. I., later as football coach in various schools and now as Commandant, Co-principal, and Athletic Director of our revered Academy.

CLASSES

Senior Class History

To give a complete retrospect of our past years at Augusta would almost be an impossibility. There are times when four years seemed to have passed slowly in our comparatively young lives. Nevertheless, certain digressions synthesize themselves to make outstanding events in our retrospect. In whatever line the digressions were, athletic or social, we all know that they certainly helped the time to pass quickly to the June of our graduation.

Our class has the distinction of having the largest rat class in the history of Augusta. In '29 almost two hundred new cadets enrolled. It was not long before we became familiar with every phase of the rat system (something we previously supposed never even existed). Studies soon claimed most of our time, so we simply took the rat system as matter-of-fact. As a pastime a few of our number participated in athletics. With our time thus occupied, June soon rolled its course.

In September of '30 we returned to experience life at Augusta from a different angle, that of an old man. Of course, we had a most enjoyable time taking advantage of our old men privileges. However, when makeovers were announced lots of us received offices. The newly created "officers-in-the-embryo" then had to abstain from excessive ratting and devote their attention to military. Others were greatly honored by receiving a membership in Augusta's "AD ASTRA PER ASPERA." Throughout the spring months it seemed as if June would be tardy. When it finally did arrive we were all glad to take advantage of the well earned Upon our return the following fall we found the corps a bit smaller than usual, the "old depression" having effectively organized itself so as to make quite a depletion in our ranks. Our third year seemed to pass quicker than ever, due to the simple reason that we had become thoroughly acquainted with the routine life of the school.

September, 1932, our last year at Augusta! Makeovers were somewhat disappointing to a few. Everyone could not hold high offices with such a large class, though. The disappointed ones resumed their steady plodding towards graduation, while the lucky ones who rated highly military had to work doubly hard. Autumn passed, winter came, Christmas vacation came and went, and it was not very long before blear-eyed Spring compelled old hoar-haired Winter to withdraw in the routine of the seasons. Many of the cadets took advantage of the spring weather by lolling in their chairs which were leaned against the railing of the barrack stoops. Others shed their windbreakers and appeared in gray shirts on the athletic field, carrying baseball bats, balls, and gloves. "Hot zigidy-zog," the good old baseball season! But those happy afternoons of baseball could not be prolonged one bit. Those final exams forged steadily towards us. For a few among us they meant the failure of our year's ambition. Others, more advanced, had certain preparation for "Finals" to complete. But now, with our June of graduation here and examinations passed, we are all at the zenith of our prep-school academics.

Throughout our four years at Augusta our class has been an exceedingly large one. As it has progressed we class members have developed an admirable fellowship, typical of the Augusta cadet spirit. We fervently hope that the succeeding classes will develop similar intimacies. As graduates, may we learn to radiate this spirit of Augusta fellowship among our associates in whatever profession of life we choose.

Not only is Alexander a leader in the military part of the school but also in the academic department. His marks were excellent and for this reason his name was seldom missing from the Honor Roll. It would be unjust to this boy not to say a few words about his success in athletics. During the different sport seasons we saw him on the football field, the basketball floor, and baseball diamond.

We regret to say good-by to this fine fellow who has helped Augusta in all of her activities but we feel sure that if he takes such an interest in his college work as he has shown here, his success will be assured.

Dick came to us four years ago and is now one of the most respected and esteemed members of our class. From the ignomius title of "rat" he has risen to the highest position attainable, that of president of the student body. Dick's friends include every member of the corps, and the faculty.

Dick has not only made his mark in the executive department of the student body, but also on the football field. No grittier end ever stepped on the field, wearing the blue jersey of Augusta, than Dick. There is no doubt that Dick will be a great success in life because no one has more personality, more sincerity of purpose, and more lasting qualities than he.

Here's to success, Dick, we will miss you.

In Bill's three years at our humble institution of learning, he has directed his talents into every field. First he is a genuine scholar, as his excellent grades will attest; secondly "Sonny" is a military genius as shown by his position as highest ranking man in his class. And last but not least, Billy is the nearest thing to Don Juan and Casanova that the school has seen in many years.

May success be your constant companion throughout life.

JAMES HAIL BENNETT

1st Year-Private Company E, Y. M. C. A. 2ND Year-Private Company B, Y. M. C. A., Bible Class, Recall Staff.

Early in September 1930, Hail came to us from the state of Delaware. He served his rat year wrestling with mathematics. If it were not for the glimpses over the mountains of Algebra and Geometry into the valley of Sunny Graduation, he would probably still be plugging away. However, with mathematics at his back, he was all set to crash through to graduation his next year. Unfortunately, due to ill health, he was unable to return. But the fall of '32 found him back and "rarin" to go.

Hail plans to take up law and we all wish him the best of success in that venture. Kid, we hope to see you on the Supreme Court some day.

2ND YEAR-Corporal Company B, Business Manager Bayonet.

3RD YEAR-Platoon Sergeant, Company B.

Three years ago Joe entered Augusta to begin what we all know as a hard grind. Joe stuck it out and is now successfully bringing to a close his last year. Joe had quite a bit to do in those many days at A. M. A. as he was one of those able clerks in the Post Exchange. Joe has stated many times that he has intentions of joining the army. The air corps, we believe.

Well, Joe, as you leave the training at A. M. A. and start on life's long journey, you will know that the class of '33 is right behind you.

D YEAR—Private Quartermaster Company, Major Monogram Club, Varsity Football and Basketball, Honor Committee, Class Honor Man, Honor Roll.

3RD YEAR—Sergeant Quartermaster Company, Major Monogram Club, Varsity Football and Track, Honor Committee, Honor Roll, Cap-tain Basketball Team.

Charlie came to us three years ago as a small boy who no one thought would lead in both academics and athletics. However, we have all changed our mind because due to his ability he has been selected to captain the best basketball team that A. M. A. has had for the last six years. He made a success of this position by leading his team on to the state championship and having a record of not being defeated by any prep school in this state.

When his class-mates selected him to represent them on the Honor Committee they showed their love, admiration and respect for him.

Charlie we are not going to say goodbye because you leave a place in our hearts that no one will ever take. We can easily see that you will make a success in life and win the admiration of all those whom you will become associated with in later life.

5TH YEAR—First Sergeant Company B, Tiger Football, Varsity Wrestling, Monogram Club, Track Team.

When John first came to us five years ago, we never thought that he would turn out to be one of the most popular boys in barracks and one of the best prep school wrestlers in the state. In John's fourth year he turned out to be a high flyer in track also.

In the years to come we will always remember this boy who could always be called a real friend and comrade. time has come to part and with it the realization that we must leave our friends.

Well, John, we know that you will succeed and the class of '33 is behind you to the man.

2810 KENSINGTON AVE., RICHMOND, VA.

1st Year-Private Company D, Peep Football, Tiger Basketball.

2ND YEAR—Private Company D, Peep Football, Bible Class, Track Team, Honor Roll, Wrestling Team.

From the city of Richmond Dave wandered to us a bashful boy who kept too much to himself, not allowing us to really know him. This year, however, he has shared his good company with all of us, when not busy playing Peep football.

His quality is unsurpassable and his character is well sounded. We find his congenial disposition based on these traits. Let us assure you that his memory will live on forever in our hearts.

It is hard to say good-by, Dave. We all wish you the best of luck and worlds of success.

FAVORITE EXPRESSION: "By golly."

BEN CARLISLE

1st Year-Private Band, Company Wrestling, Y. M. C. A.

2ND YEAR-Private Company D, Golf Team, Company Basketball.

Two years ago our little friend left dear old Carolina to don the uniform of an A. M. A. cadet. Little did he realize, when he first entered the arch, that he was destined to graduate as one of the most popular boys attending the Academy

His undeniable popularity is based on his straight character and his sincere desire to stand by a pal, no matter what the circumstances may be.

As a result, we find that it can safely be said that in a pinch, either military or otherwise, Ben can stand up with the hest.

So lets have one big drink, boys, and this shall be to Ben's health, wealth and happiness at Carolina.

FAVORITE EXPRESSION: "Guy Lombardo, boys."

FRANK DIXON "Frank"

2ND YEAR—Corporal Company A, Company Basketball, Company Boxing, Company Wrestling, Track Squad.

3RD YEAR—Platoon Sergeant Company D, Company Basketball, Company Wrestling, Company Boxing, Photographic Editor of the Recall, Manager Tiger Football.

Frank came to the school three years ago and with him he brought every quality that a boy of good character possesses. He was sincere, honest and perfectly frank.

Frank was not inclined to be an athlete but what he did not do on the athletic field, he made up in the military and academic departments. He has risen from a private to one of the highest ranking men in his class. He accomplished this by his tircless effort and his desire to make himself a leader of men.

Frank leaves us this year but we feel sure that if he applies himself as he has here, success will be assured.

FAVORITE EXPRESSION: "Get off my bed."

1st Year—Private Company C, Fencing Squad, Company Boxing. 2nd Year—Private Company A, Boxing Squad, Company Boxing, Fencing Team.

3RD YEAR-Corporal Company D, Track Squad, Fencing Team.

Three years ago from our nation's capitol, there came to us this smiling boy. His smile has been a great asset in winning friends because of his quietness and his reserve. His loyalty always remains unshaken and his sincerity and honesty have won him much esteem among his fellow cadets. He is not a ladies' man but to a great extent confines himself to studies and sports. The time will come when our Smilie will be a success among his fellow men. It is a deep regret to see him pass through the portals of Augusta for the last time.

FAVORITE EXPRESSION: "Kief you're erazy.'

1st YEAR-Private Company C. 2ND YEAR-Private Company C.

3RD YEAR—Corporal Company B, Member "Cadet Ramblers."

4TH YEAR-Platoon Sergeant Company C, Member of A. M. A. Orchestra.

Four long years ago, a meek, quiet, reserved little boy started out from the "City of Brotherly Love" to become one of A. M. A.'s soldiers.

During his first two years we heard very little from Joe, but he soon came to the top as a good prospect in the "sax playing business." Joe became a corporal in his third year, and by this time he has lost all his bashfulness.

His fourth year finds him a platoon sergeant and also "1st. sax player" in the Black Dragons. During the past year, Joe has thrilled many by his "Lombardo-like" playing, and we regret to have him leave us, but soon we'll be hearing of him again-this time over the "rad-dio."

FAVORITE EXPRESSION: "Got to hear 'Guy' tonight."

WILLIAM DULANEY FITCH "Du"

BOWLING GREEN, KY.

1st Year-Peep Football, Varsity Swimming Squad.

2ND YEAR—Corporal Company D, Tiger Football, Track Squad, Monogram Club.

3RD YEAR—Platoon Sergeant Company A, Varsity Track Team, Varsity Swimming Team, Monogram Club.

4TH YEAR—Captain Adjutant, Captain Swimming Team, Cotillion Club, Monogram Club, Captain Track Team, Fresh Air, Final Ball Committee.

Ladies and Gentlemen, that handsome, cleancut, Captain Adjutant strutting across the parade ground is none other than "Laney" Fitch, the glorifier of the Augusta swimming pool. That versatile boy also excels at "jumping the fences" during track season. Du's keen mind has enabled him to go far scholastically as well as athletically.

Laney has made an exceedingly large number of friends during his four years; and though he is rather quiet, he has shown his ability as a leader of boys and men in various ways.

"Lest we forget," some mention must be made of Laney's success in the social field, but of course that is just a "Tip." Happy landings, lad.

FAVORITE EXPRESSION: "I still say that Kentucky is 'God's Country.'

2ND YEAR—Private Company A, Varsity Football, Y. M. C. A., Swimming Squad, Company Wrestling.

Wilson has been so love-sick for the past year that he hasn't been able to take part in many activities, but we all understand because we know the girl. Nevertheless, Foster has won a place in the heart of everyone. It is our guess that no matter what he undertakes in later life, he will be successful.

Foster hadn't attempted anything in the athletic field until this year, but he worked hard with football, and had he been a little more experienced, he would have probably made his letter.

In the leave taking, Foster, we all hope you will fulfill your ambition and have "Lady Luck" as a constant com-

1ST YEAR—Private Company C. 2ND YEAR—Private Company C. 3RD YEAR—Private Company C.

"Jack," as he is nicknamed, came to us three years ago from the Weyers Cave High School, where he took an active part in the Literary Society. He is nineteen years old and hails from the famous Grottoes, Virginia.

With his glittering black eyes and brunette hair reflects the quiet modesty of his home town. All the cadets in barracks admire him; he is not the kind that thrust themselves on you, but rather by his placid nature, wins you to his cide.

Jack is going to V. P. I. to take up an engineering course. Jack, we wish you the best of luck and hope some day to see you building mighty bridges.

FAVORITE EPRESSION: "O. K."

DARWIN C. GIVENS
"D. C."
414 PARK St., CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA.

1st YEAR—Private Company B. 2ND YEAR—Private Company D.

Darwin Givens, plain "Givens" to his classmates, is always ready to give or to take a joke. When next year rolls around, we will miss him and his incessant "chewing the rag," for he will be boring the V. P. I. cadets with his inimitable humor. However, we have found one unfailing way to keep him quiet and happy: tune in on Lombardo. The boys all like the sporting way in which Givens accepts kidding. In other words, "he can take it."

2ND YEAR-Corporal Company B, Y. M. C. A., Trap Shooting.

3RD YEAR-Platoon Sergeant, Band, Y. M. C. A., Orchestra.

4TH YEAR-1st Lieutenant Band, Orchestra Leader.

In '29 Dave was a meek and most humble cadet. For four years Dave has been with us and has been successful in almost everything that he has undertaken.

In the past years he has been a member of our orchestra. This year he assumed the leadership. He has made a great success in this line.

Dave is planning to become a barrister. We certainly hope that he will be as successful in this vocation as he has been in his studies at A. M. A.

We do know that at finals we are losing a fine cadet and a loyal drummer.

3RD YEAR—Sergeant Company A, Manager Bas-ketball Team, Y. M.C. A.

4TH YEAR—2nd Lieutenant Company B, Manager Boxing Team, Sports Editor Recall, Assistant Manager Football.

Four long years ago a boy entered Augusta, ignorant of all military duties; but since then has steadily climbed and now graduates, the proud wearer of lieutenant chevrons. Although not taking part in athletics, he has played an active part in the social life of the school.

Henry has shown no preferences in the feminine line, but many believe that he has been holding out on us all along. If so, she is mighty lucky, because they do not make them any better than Henry.

Old Fellow, we only hope that you are one-tenth as successful in the years to come as your class of '33 wish you to be.

From the midst of the whirlpool of smoke and dust called Pittsburgh, emerged this "gentleman of leisure," in quest of light and, incidentally, an education in the sunny South. George went after that which he wanted in his characteristic, forceful, cheerful way, and got it.

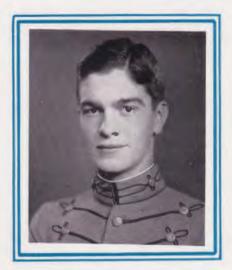

George has been with us for four years, and during that time has worked hard and performed all of his duties to the best of his ability, which is not mediocre.

George has made a host of friends during his four years here.

Honest, upright, square, clean-cut, congenial, and friendly are the adjectives that describe our good friend, Howard. He came to us three years ago and since that time has made himself one of the best liked boys in barracks.

Howard applied himself more to the military part of the school than to any other of the activities. He was repaid for his efforts by being made one of the highest ranking men in his class. We must not put too much stress on his military life, however, because he was really a fine student; and as for athletics, he managed the state prep school champions in wrestling.

Probably the most outstanding characteristic of "Spang" is his impulsive, energetic manner which calls for something to do, somewhere to go. His generosity and personality have won friend-ships with all acquainted with him. He is by nature, not serious-minded, but is capable of profound thought whenever a situation demands. Women are a constant menace to him. At first realizing that love and military can not mix, he promptly excluded the latter. The wind blew and the snow flew and into our midst walked "The Washington Merry-go-Round," better known by his pals as "Oopie." The long years have elapsed, and "Oopie" is due to receive his parole.

"Oopie's" rise in the military department has been slow but sure. The first two years saw his advancement from the rear rank to the front rank, then by a series of leaps and bounds he obtained a platoon-sergeant. At the present time he and another Washington Technocrat have assumed the joint responsibility of keeping "B" Company on the ground. What a life, and we close by saying, "Best luck, pal."

Jack came to Augusta as a boy from the mountains of Virginia entirely unfamiliar with the routine of military. It was not long, however, before he had thoroughly acquainted himself with the school, and by his cheerful attitude won friends all through the barracks. He made a reputation as a true friend in all the phases of life at Augusta, whether it was on the athletic field or in the barracks.

He has made a name for himself in the football world at Augusta. It will be mighty hard to find a man who is able to take this boy's place in the line.

In summing up the character of Jack, we might say that he possesses every quality, which goes to make up a real man. We feel sure that he will bring honor to the school in the days to come.

Second Class History

Perhaps the best that can be written for the Second Class History is the routine life of the school. We have long since passed that morbid state of fear in which we used to live as rats. The majority of us have settled down from the enthusiasm of our secondyear liberty, while graduation is yet fairly distant to become so deeply imbued with that spirit. Reminiscent of our first duties here in '30 and '31 we made mountains out of molehills. Having been here for some time, we came to realize that life at Augusta was not composed of all the slave-driving tasks that we had supposed, but a certain amount of play intermingled with hard work made our stay fairly pleasant. Our second year passed

During the past summer many of us had been forced to face the realities of a record depression period. In view of the fact there has been better academic results obtained. All were not studious, however, and those previously devoted to athletics did not let their enthusiasm for sports lax. It was partly due to them that Augusta attained such a successful athletic record this year.

Our reminiscence ends at "Finals" of '33. For our graduating friends we have nothing but success and good cheer to offer.

Third Class History

"Well, I'll be . . ." Back again at A. M. A., this time as old men, however. My! It certainly does feel good to walk the stoops with a decent posture, instead of the undignified attitude of "finning out." Then there are those numerous little services, performed by us rats last year, which make coming back seem worth while. A few of our number felt it necessary to experience that "grand old second year liberty" by throwing a few firecrackers in the courtyard.

In spite of the "ratting" and firecracker-tossing, we second-year men are conscious that there are bonds which bind us closer to the traditions of the school. As rats we cheered in support of the athletic events because we were "advised to." But we now count ourselves as loyal sons of A. M. A., as elements in the ever-present cadet corps, trying to uphold the traditions founded by our predecessors. With this constant consciousness of loyalty in mind we strived to do our best academically and gave all we had militarily to make the Honor School List again.

As old among old men we formed many new acquaintances, certain restrictions last year making that impossible. Among those acquaintances are some who are graduating. When those strains of "Auld Lang Syne" swell forth on that morning at "Finals," it will be with tears in our eyes as we make that parting. So here's the best of luck to you all!

Fourth Class History

As civilians we thought that anyone who wore the gray and sported brass buttons was "the apple of every girl's eye." Resolved to become one of the coveted few, a number of us enrolled at Augusta last fall. After a few days of drill and an introduction to the rat system we found our carefully plumed feathers greatly ruffled.

However, with Colonel's speech of welcome over, we promptly settled down to brass tacks, trying to forget girls, brass buttons, drill, and the rat system-even though in the latter we were constantly made to realize how humble we really were. It wasn't long before we found the first semester examinations confronting us. With the prospect of Christmas vacation just ahead we put all we had into those exams. And then came Christmas!

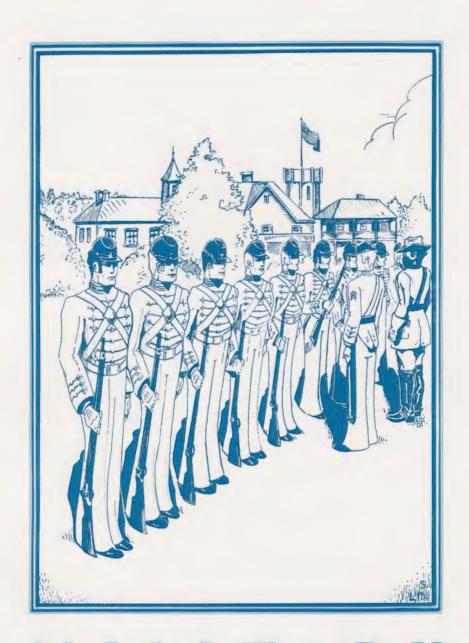

We previously thought that the mid-winter months would be the hardest, especially in keeping up our morale. Fortunately there were numerous athletic events scheduled. The dances also gave us an excellent opportunity to "strut our stuff." Second semester exams passed uneventfully. In May came the Government Inspection. From then on, studying and preparations for "Finals" kept the whole corps occupied.

To those high and mighty old men who will receive that coveted "sheep-skin" we wish all the success in the world. Don't let those "Sophies" ride you when you're "Freshies,"

Messrs. Graduates!

MAJOR THOMAS MARKHAM BRINKLEY

Many men have come and gone as P. M. S. and T. of this school, but none have had the intense interest in their work, the real spirit of the school at heart as Major Brinkley. As a result none have had the whole-hearted co-operation of the Corps such as that which he has inspired. His ability is shown in the fact that the school has had an exceptionally high rating on the Honor School list for the past four years.

During Major Brinkley's detail at A. M. A. contact with him under all conditions has only increased the Corps' respect for him. His unfailing desire to help the cadet whenever possible and his keenly sympathetic understanding has given us a new and very real conception of the phrase, "an officer and a gentleman."

Company "A"

In spite of the fact that we are able to quote our many honors and achievements, it would be foolish to worry you, dear reader, with all that perpetual hooey. No matter what we have done and what we lay claim to, we won't go into a long discourse, as the rest of the companies to follow will claim the same honors.

Let us, as we are the first company to bore you with our many "have dones," explain in a brief manner what a company at A. M. A. stands for. The military company somewhat suffices us as a club or a select group. The company is selected at random, and of course we get our share of Washingtons, Hitlers, Thorpes, and Capones. We feel after eight months, that we know each others' peculiarities, mannerisms, and idiosyncracies, and we possess an organization of friends and men who think first of the ones next to them in ranks provided of course that we are assured of our share of the food, in spite of our position.

We of "A" Company were blessed with officers who were just short of Napoleons, but please remember Napoleon was quite short himself. Our non-commissioned officers were the cream of the crop, and we wish to thank them for their untiring efforts in forming a body of pleasant and congenial men. The backbone of the company, the privates, are to be commended for their helpfulness to the company.

J. C. TIMBERLAKE Captain

R. K. BAILEY First Lieutenant

Company "A"

In order that you won't think us too harsh and refuse to make connections with "A" Company in future years, we will dwell a moment on a few of our honors and creditable dishonors. "A" Company furnished their quota of men to every branch of athletics and also every phase of social and academic life at A. M. A.

Although no cups stand on the cannon in front of "A" Company, we have won our place in the hearts of the Corps by making it just a bit harder for the winners to come through on the top.

Our position as first in the battalion shows our worth and that significant first has become a by-word with "A" Company, first not to get to drill on time and first to return to the barracks before time. That is why "A" Company is so popular. We are the company that makes the first gray hair in the P. M. S. and T.'s head appear; first to be the last; in that evening drill.

My time is short, and I hope that you will bear with me that the previous statements are true, a bit ironic, but explicit of "A" Company. So let us all have a short one for the happy hours spent and the wonderful friendships made in old "A" Company.

Company "B"

"Tis the royal boys of Company "B," "Tis the loyal sons of Company "B,"
Who shoot the "bull" and bag the game—you'll see!"

"First in drill, first in sports, first in the hearts of our lady friends." Introducing our theme song and slogan (comma) ladies and gentleman (exclamation mark) Perhaps you think that we are a little too egotistical in our nonsense? No, that is confidence! Confidence in military, athletics, and

"B" Company has been extremely fortunate in its selection of officers this year. Our captain is a square-shooter, seriously interested in his charge, and well respected by all the men of the company. We know of no better first lieutenant in the battalion than ours. Charlie Upham has that winning personality which makes the boys willing to back him in anything. When our confidence soars too highly in the military, we have the "props" knocked out from under us, so to speak, by that hard-boiled Tactical Department. Of course, when we find ourselves "back to earth again," we realize that perhaps it was for the best. We know that all those criticisms of the tactical officers are helping us to be better prepared to win the Company Cup at "Finals." And when we do it'll be "Here's looking at you!"

J. W. S. MARK Captain

C. M. UPHAM First Lieutenant

Company "B"

In sports, "B" Company has stood behind its slogan. We won a company cup for boxing in the intramural sports. The good old "B" was represented in the Augusta Rifle Team which won the championship in the Third Corps Area this year. Besides these outstanding events our company has contributed athletes to practically all the teams throughout this athletic season.

Ah! we shine in the social line! Some of the best dancers in the battalion are in our company. And hardly a dance goes by without numerous young ladies having escorts from "B" Company! Those of us less fortunate in looks and social qualities do our share in conducting animated bull sessions. In these bull sessions practically everything is discussed—everything from what color dress Mrs. Robinson will wear to church on Sunday to speculations as to what Major Jacob will next announce in the mess-hall. We are extremely skilled in predicting the next move of Major Roller—when he will make a midnight inspection and the approximate number of cigarette butts he will find on the stoops.

In spite of all this foolishness we realize that every new "B" Company inherits a prestige from the preceding one. We as cadets of the "B" Company of '32-'33 have earnestly tried to uphold and maintain this cherished prestige. And here's for the success in our inheritance!

All hail! The outstanding company of the Corps greets all of those who look with interest on an efficient body of men. We do not wish to add praise beyond our merits, so we ask you to look back and remember what company stood far out in front in military excellence for the entire year.

"C" Company looks with a calm gaze and an assured attitude at the forthcoming Government Inspection and then the competitive drill at Finals. We issue a standing guarantee that, if we do not win the coveted cup, we will at least have caused another company a heart-rending grind and a backbreaking toil to surpass us.

The third company of the corps showed their stamina in the intramural sports. In wrestling, our captain inspired us with his presence and through his advice we were able to capture the cup. Next we plunged into boxing and fought our way to second place against the larger companies. We were so enthusiastic that our second lieutenant, Hamp Morris, broke his ankle and was detained from joining the Varsity Boxing squad for two months.

It is safely said that we are the snappiest company in the Corps. Our company commander understood us and he never failed to live up to his reputation of being an excellent, yet fair, officer. Good fellowship prevailed throughout our ranks, although we had petty arguments, when it came to a company question we were behind our leader to a man. We know everyone in the two platoons, if they had their pick of companies in the Battalion again they would unanimously pick "the pride of the Battalion."

In summing up the officers who command this efficient and compact body of men, we can readily say that the tactical brains of the Augusta Military Academy were distributed through the ranks of this organization. For steadfast loyalty we tip our hats to Red Moore, that first sergeant who was ever ready to take charge of a platoon whenever a lieutenant was absent.

Ours was a military organization and it was under the command of a military leader who knew the proper method of handling men in such a way that their work was outstanding to a great degree in the Cadet Corps.

When Somerville dismisses us for the last time, it is with tears in our eyes that we break ranks. Of course we may not be the best company that A. M. A. has ever seen, but it certainly is the finest bunch of boys, all friends, all comrades, that have been joined together under one guidon.

Company "D"

We are supposed to sum up the activities of the company here, to tell of its feats and outstanding accomplishments that it has made during the year. We are supposed to bring to you all its thoughts, its doings, actions, manners, characteristics, all in four hundred and fifty words. Impossible! In order to tell the full story of "D" Company it would take volumes. We could take facts, and from them gather details, from these details, other minute details that might seem trivial to you, but to us, the ones who have trodden the long and weary trail of school and drill, within the ranks of Company "D," surrounded by our friends and the fellows we have come to love—in a man's way—would hold the depeest and greatest thrill, if it were only for the memory.

We do not claim to be the biggest and best company in the battalion, nor do we say that we are better than anybody else. We have done our part, and enjoyed it and we are satisfied within ourselves—that we have helped to better and keep the age-old traditions that A. M. A. stands for.

We work with a will and play with a zest. It is needless to say that we are always on the go, and always working. Need we mention that silly ass, Pritchard, the one who has kept us laughing whole drill periods, or the eyes of Givens? Should we ever get into a "Bull Session," at once is heard the full voice of Comrade Kleppski. Our captain—now, there is a man! A good fellow, one that knows his stuff, and shows it, too. We have followed him, we will follow him; and why not! When a man has his fellows' interest at heart, when he would do anything to help a friend in any way, naturally men should like and respect him.

We are proud of "D" Company, we are proud that we are what we are, and we are sure that there is not a man among us who would say different, or even think of doing so. Our officers are all good, both as men, and as officers. Our non-coms will stand up with any of the best from any other company in the battalion. All in all, we are satisfied.

We said it before, we say it again, that to put here all that has happened to us, for us, during the year, would be impossible. Just let us state in closing that our work is passed, we've done our best—we've enjoyed it. What is more, we know that "D" Company, and the year of '33, will stand forever in our memories.

Men scornfully refer to us as the runts of the battalion. That does not begin to tell the story. Men small in stature, true; but men great in achievement. What is lacking in height is surely made up by act and deed. You must remember that the best things come in small packages. It may be said that the scorn of others for the small man is caused in part by the ability of a little man to do things well.

"E" Company is just one small part of the Corps; we feel, however, that it is more than this; a fellowship of men; who through years of close friendship have acquired a common point of view. To lead this company through another year has been the duty of that war-worn group; the first class of "E" Company. A few men they are who have pulled together, preserving that tradition that is "E" Company.

We might fill this space with achievements, laud those of our number who have led the Corps in academics, won laurels in athletics, and given their time to other Corps activities. These things, however, we take for granted. We pride ourselves rather in the fact that we are the most congenial group in the Corps, and as such, are proud to fill the ranks of "E" Company.

Band

Soon after the companies had been organized, a call was made for Band men. A larger group than usual reported, so Captain Earnest found no difficulty in selecting his men.

Band practice began right away. Through persistent effort on the part of the two faculty, Captains Earnest and Patchel, and the hard work of the men, that organization has risen to heights far greater than any achieved at Augusta before.

The Band is proud to say that their members have made names for themselves in all of A. M. A.'s activities, some in football, in basketball, in wrestling, and in other sports.

We are not only proud of our standing in the athletic and social circles of the school, but also of our officers. That tall fellow out in front is none other than George Bew, Captain and Band Leader, who has thrilled many a person by his uncanny twirling of the baton. We do not believe that there is a more colorful figure in any other prep school in the country.

We know the Band has played a large part in the school life and has always added a final touch at any function during the entire year. Credit should go to the men of the Band by whose denial of their own time made such an organization possible.

We of the Band sincerely hope that those organizations which follow, will make the mark that this year's has.

Oh, meals may come and meals may go, but the C. W.'s, the pride of the lost Battalion, remains always—the Quartermaster Company. We are at once the pride and despair of Major Roller. We carry in our hearts the "grand Esprit de' Corps" and a firm conviction that there is but one company in the Corps—the "C. W." Company. Whenever men are needed, who answers the call?—the C. W.'s. See the Quartermaster Company for a few extra yards for a touchdown. We find ourselves everywhere, at the hops, in the Recall office, with sweethearts on the front drive, or in our rooms, deep in the depths of the notorious "bull sessions." Even in the intellectual gatherings of star students we can furnish representatives.

"Service with a smile" has always been our motto, and as usual, we are carrying it out with all thoroughness. You see, we live in a separate barracks and form a clique all our own. You can take it from us, you will find no other group of boys who are so loyal to each other as we are. It is our duty to see that the Corps get enough to eat, and though we have been grossly accused of failing in this respect, you could not expect anyone to fill those cavernous food receptacles.

This year we were under the capable leadership of that little bundle of energy, Skeeter Clarke. Skeeter endeavors to draw from each of us the best that is in us, in every activity. And may it be said that there is not a slacker in the whole C. W. Company. Seconding Clarke's leadership are Weiland, Hoy, and Jones, strong men all, and ever ready to do their bit that the Quartermaster Company may flaunt their success to the sky. We would also like to mention Bud Price, because his humor keeps us in a jovial mood, when otherwise, we would be cast in the depths of gloominess. Likewise Knight's music soothes ragged nerves after hectic hours of work. When we are dismissed for the last time and pass on to attain greater heights, the Quartermaster Company will forever live in our memory.

Basketball Resume

The varsity this year was the best basketball team that we have had since 1929, and Coach Leigh Williams is to be congratulated for turning out such a fine team. We won twelve games and lost three. Our three defeats were handed us by college freshman teams, and we can readily claim the state basketball championships of Virginia and West Virginia.

The season opened with Augusta losing to the Washington and Lee Freshmen, thirty-nine to twenty-nine. Both teams showed occasional spurts of speed and flashes of true basketball form. Bill Morgan was the outstanding star of the game, and succeeded in making fifteen of our twenty-nine points. In the second game we more than doubled the score over our opponents and defeated the Staunton Collegians 39-17. Shomo was high scorer, obtaining thirteen points, followed by Morgan with ten. We then won our next two games in easy style, defeating the Charlottesville Fives 45-15, and the Elizabethtown (Pennsylvania) Masonic Institute 37-17. We next defeated Episcopal High School 37-32. At the end of the game the score was tied thirty all. In the extra period we rolled up seven points to Episcopal's two, thus giving us our fourth consecutive game of the season.

We then dropped our sixth game of the current season to the University of Virginia Frosh by a score of 25-15. Augusta outplayed her opponent in the second half, but Virginia's lead was too large for the "fighting cadets" to overtake.

Then two games were won by us in rapid succession. We defeated the Washington and Lee Freshmen by a single point margin, 29-28. So close was the guarding of both teams that neither one was able to get near the basket, and the majority of the shots that were made were shot near the center of the floor. Augusta went into the final quarter leading 24-19, but in the last two minutes of the game W. and L.'s lanky center, Watts, scored six points, and with the aid of his team-mates ran their score up to twenty-eight points. This was one of the most exciting games of the year, and the crowd in the Memorial Gym remained in an uproar throughout.

Spencer in continuing his stellar work at forward, helped us defe at Fishburne 42-14. The first half was fairly close, and at the half the score was 16-10, in our favor. In the last half, however, the Augusta offensive started clicking, and at the end of the third quarter we were leading 29-12.

On the day following our victory over Fishburne we met the University of North Carolina Freshmen and dropped a close, hard-fought game 24-16. This was by far the best team that Augusta had met this season, and the last team to beat us on our regular schedule.

After our last defeat we won six games, thus winding up our season of 1933. We more than doubled the score over Randolph-Macon, of Bedford, defeating them 43-17. Spencer was high point man with twenty-one points, followed by Shomo with ten. Virginia Episcopal School was our eighth victim of the season, and they went down to defeat 47-26. The next game was played with the University of Virginia Freshmen and our comeback in the second half had enough power and punch to win 35-27. We got off to a slow start, and at the half the Freshmen were leading 19-11. In the second half, Augusta, however, held the Virginia team scoreless, except for the last four minutes of play when Virginia made six points.

We next met Fork Union, who suffered her first defeat, when we emerged victorious, 37-29. Although the game was hard fought throughout, we led all the way, and we were never in any serious danger.

Playing our last state game, we defeated our traditional rival, Fishburne, 50-15. The visitors were outclassed from the start. When three-fourths of the game had been played, our first team retired. One feature of the game was the battle for scoring honors between Shomo and Spencer. After the Augusta victory was taken as a matter of course, the spectators began counting the points of the two Augusta rivals, and the leadership swayed from one to the other. Between the pair of them, they scored twenty-three points.

After winning the state championship, we journeyed to Lewisburg, West Virginia, and administered a 27 to 26 defeat to the Greenbrier Fives. We had a close shave, however, because the game would have ended twenty-six to twenty-five in favor of Greenbrier, if Lady Luck had not smiled on Augusta. Just as the referee's whistle blew, ending the game, Morgan, our star forward, was fouled as he attempted to make a shot, and was granted two free chances. He sank both of them, thus carrying the day for Augusta.

Playing in the South Atlantic Basketball Tournament at Washington and Lee, Georgetown Prep forged ahead in the third and fourth quarters and forced us to bow to a 30-17 score.

Boxing Resume

Our 1933 boxing season was one of the most successful ones we have had in a long time. We had seven meets, of which we won four, tied one, and lost two. We defeated Danville Military Institute, Washington and Lee Freshmen twice, and Greenbrier. We tied the Army Plebes and dropped a hard fought meet to the Navy Plebes. The University of Virginia Freshmen were also able to defeat us. Captain Dunn is to be congratulated for his fine coaching. We had two letter men and around these he built a team that, in spite of breaks, captured second place in the South Atlantic Boxing Tournament.

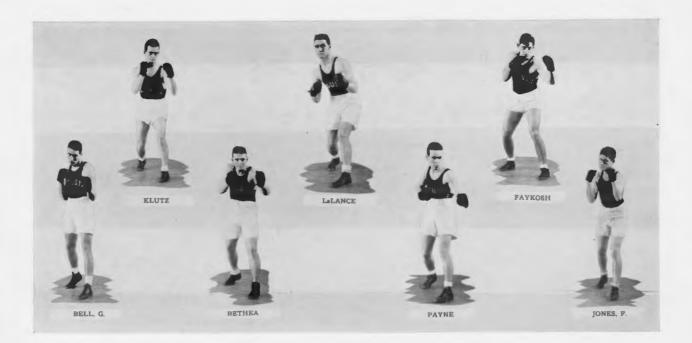

On Friday, January the thirteenth the Augusta leather pushers proved that Friday the thirteenth is not necessarily an unlucky day, as we were very successful in our first meet of the season. We opened the season by defeating the Washington and Lee Freshmen to the tune of five to three. In the 115 pound class "Frannie" Payne donned the Augusta colors for his first time and succeeded in gaining a three round decision over his opponent. Klutz, substituting for Captain Morris, dropped a close three round decision in the 125 lb. class. In the 135-pound and 145-pound classes, Riffey and Wheeler dropped close decisions. Bob LaLance, "Keno" Harshbarger, George Bell, and Frank Jones succeeded in winning for Augusta in the remaining weights. Frank Jones and "Keno" Harshbarger both won by the knock-out route; the former dislocating his opponent's shoulder in the second round.

In our second meet, our leather pushers were humbled by the University of Virginia when the Virginia Freshmen handed us a five to three defeat in eight fast and furious rounds. A large crowd of fistic fans were on hand, not only to cheer the Rollerites, but to welcome back to the fold several Virginia ringmen who last year saw service with the Augusta Warriors. And those present said that they were not disappointed, for they witnessed eight corking good fights. Augusta won the fights in the 125 pound, 155 pound, and 175 pound classes. The most exciting and interesting bout was between Bob LaLance and Captain Bill McClung, of Virginia, last year's captain of the Augusta Team. Bob defeated his husky Virginia opponent after three furious rounds, gaining a decision over the former Augusta fighter in the third round. This was the first fight that McClung had lost in two years. Frank Jones and Womer staged a battle-royal in the unlimited division, the latter coming out victorious at the end of the fourth round.

On the twenty-first of January our mitmen met and defeated the Greenbrier boxers in the Memorial Gym to the tune of 5-3. Acting captain Harshbarger continued his victorious march by winning his third fight in a row. LaLance did the same. We lost in the 115 pound, 125 pound, and unlimited classes. In the unlimited class Augusta missed the service of Frank Jones, and Wheeler substituted for him, but on account of his lightness, Crawford gained a T. K. O. over him in the second round.

For the second time this season the A. M. A. boxers scored a five to three victory over the freshmen boxers from Washington and Lee, the bouts being staged at A. M. A. Augusta won three bouts by technical knock-outs, while the visitors took one by the same route. Capt. Morris, appearing for the first time this season, scored a technical knock-out in the second round, while Harshbarger and LaLance extended their victories to four. In the unlimited class Faykosh scored a T. K. O. over Morsaweck, but both fighters were dead on their feet and had to be carried out of the ring.

On Saturday, February the fourteenth the A. M. A. boxing team rang up her fourth victory of the season by defeating the D. M. I. boxers with the score of 5½ to 2½. Riffey lost his bout by a T. K. O., but it wasn't through any fault of his. In the third round his nose was knocked out of place and Captain Dunn forfeited the fight. The draw bout came when Hardbarger received his first draw of the season. This was the closest he had come to being defeated in three years. The other bout that Augusta lost came in the 145 pound class, when "Doc" Bethea dropped a close four-round fight. Klutz, LaLance, Bell, G., and Jones F., won for Augusta.

In our sixth meet of the season we fought West Point and for the second time in two years tied them, 4-4. We were victorious in the 115 pound, 125 pound, 155 pound and also the 165 pound classes. Augusta lost the other four bouts by close decisions. In the 125 pound class, Capt. Morris continued his winning streak, and although he has only fought three fights this season, he has won all of them by knock-outs. LaLance, in the 165 pound class, was also victorious, and he has won all six of his fights this year.

In our last meet of the season we dropped a close meet to the Navy Plebes, $4\frac{1}{2}-3\frac{1}{2}$. In the 115 pound class Klutz received his first draw of the season. Morris won his fourth fight of the season, while LaLance chalked up his seventh win. Bethea won his first fight by a T. K. O. Harshbarger dropped his first fight of the season when he lost to his Middie opponent on a very close decision.

Placing six men in the semi-finals, we took second place in the South Atlantic. Morris met his first defeat of the season when Del Prete of Staunton beat him. Harshbarger and LaLance were our two champions.

Swimming Resume

This year seemed to be our lucky year in sports, and our 1933 swimming team followed along with the other sports. We didn't capture the state championship, though we had a fair chance. We won four of our meets and dropped two. We defeated the University of Virginia Freshmen twice and the Washington and Lee Frosh twice. Our only upsets of the season came at the hands of Massanutten. They succeeded in tucking a hard earned victory in their season's record. As a matter of fact, they defeated us in two meets, by the identical score of 41 to 25.

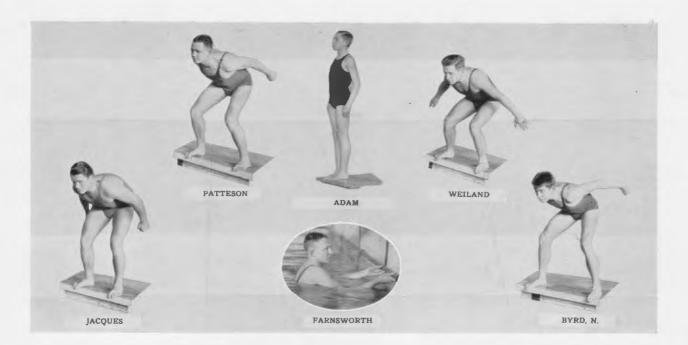

This year's team was built around Captain Dulany Fitch, Assistant Captain Jim Byrd and Conrad Weiland. Boh Jacques, Byrd, N., and "Minnie" Adams were instrumental in accounting for some of Augusta's victories.

On Saturday, January the twenty-first, Augusta opened her swimming season by defeating the strong, speedy University of Virginia Frosh to the tune of thirty-four to thirty-one, Dulany Fitch shown in this meet, and he captured first places in all the events in which he was entered. His time in the hundred was wonderful and he has prospects of breaking many records. Adams and Weiland showed up exceptionally well in the dives and captured first and second places respectively. Jimmic Byrd won in the two-twenty and free style by a large margin. Jacques crashed through to win the breast stroke and Farnsworth did likewise in the back stroke. This being our first meet of the season and from the showing that we made in this tank meet at Charlottesville, we had prospects of having a very successful season.

On Monday, January the thirtieth our "mermen" journeyed to Lexington where me met, and literally submerged the tank freshmen at Washington and Lee, capturing the meet to the tune of thirty-seven to thirty. Washington and Lee had previously defeated the Virginia Frosh by a larger score than our previous victory over the University, and we feel justly proud to praise such a team as the Augusta swimmers. Our relay team composed of Jim Byrd, Capt. Dulany Fitch, Patteson, and Cooper broke the Washington and Lee pool record, lowering the mark by three seconds. Fitch again won the hundred and Byrd again defeated all entries in the two-twenty yard swim. Weiland captured first place in the dives and he was closely followed by Adams in second place. When we defeated Virginia, we thought we had a good team, but when we defeated Washington and Lee we knew we had an excellent one.

After winning our first two meets, we journeyed to Woodstock where on Tuesday, the nineth of February, the Massanutten Military Academy added another victory to their string by defeating the so far undefeated A. M. A. swimmers by the score of forty-one to twenty-four. This was the first time in ten years that Massanutten has ever defeated A. M. A. in a tank meet, and we had hopes that when these two teams met later on in the season that we might avenge this defeat.

Jim Byrd, Dulany Fitch, "Minnie" Adams, Byrd, N., and Conrad Weiland were the only five men to win on our team, but four of them secured first place in their respective events. Conrad was the only one not to capture a first place and for the first time in the meets, he was able to capture only third place in the diving event.

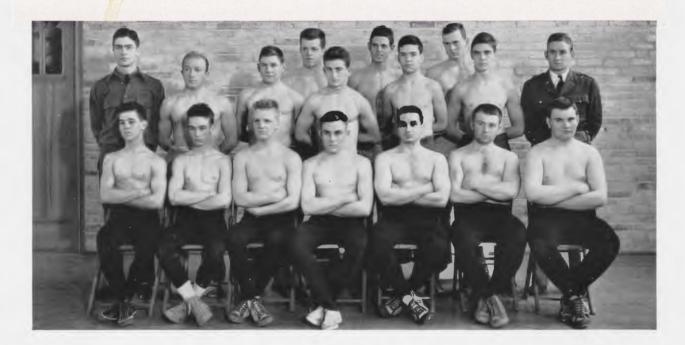

In our fourth meet of the season we performed to perfection and redefeated the Washington and Lee Freshmen swimmers thirty-nine to twenty-seven. In this meet Capt. Fitch of Augusta, lowered our pool record in the fifty yard free style by three tenths of a second. The dives were exceptionally good and the only upset in the meet came in the defeat of Jim Byrd in the two-twenty free style. In our previous meet with Washington and Lee Jimmie won in the two-twenty and it was a great disappointment to see him lose in this meet,

Immediately following this meet, Jimmie Byrd and Capt. Dulany Fitch traveled to Baltimore, Maryland, where they were intered in the South Atlantic Swimming meet. Both men went to the finals in their events, where Fitch captured a second place in the fifty yard swim and Byrd received a third place in the two-twenty yard event.

In our fifth meet of the season we again defeated the University of Virginia stars thirty-five to thirty-one. The Washington Birthday events were fast, especially the fifty yard event. In this, Fitch broke his own pool record by swimming this event in 24.5 seconds, his previous record being 25.5. In the two-twenty yard swim, Byrd, J., shattered the pool record by swimming the distance in two minutes and thirty-four seconds. This record had formerly been held by McDavid of Washington and Lee at two minutes and thirty-five and three-tenths seconds. Farnsworth came through to win from Crain, who had formerly defeated him at Charlottesville in the fifty yard back stroke.

In our last meet of the season Massanutten again' trimmed us, 41 to 25. The same Augusta men captured first places and Weiland received a second place this time in the dives.

Wrestling Resume

Although Augusta's 1933 wrestling season cannot be considered the best she ever had, it still was not the worst. We can still claim the prep school state wrestling championships of West Virginia and Virginia, and that is a record of which to be proud. We had seven meets and succeeded in winning five of them. The only teams that beat us were the Navy Plebes and the Washington and Lee Frosh. Washington and Lee won a close, hard fought meet, while the Plebes seemed to have a slight edge on us and won by an impressive score, as Benton Coiner was the only Augustan to win.

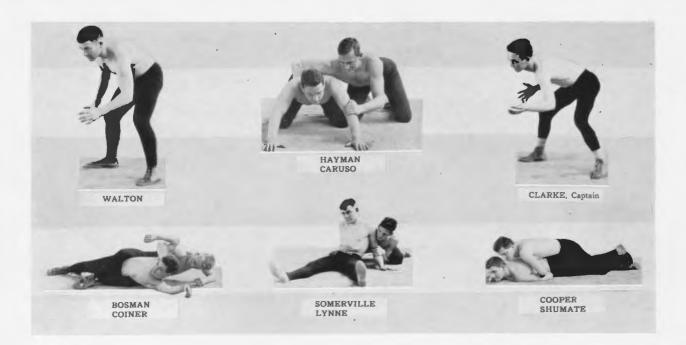

We opened our 1933 wrestling season by dropping a close, hard fought meet to the Freshmen of Washington and Lee, 23-13. This being our first meet of the season, we put up a good fight, considering that we had just returned from Christmas furlough and had not had time to get into perfect condition. This meet saw many new faces in the Augusta ranks; namely, Coiner, Lyne, "Lou" Sommerville, Hayman, and Shumate. Captain Clarke, Assistant Captain Bosman J. and Walton were the only wrestlers that had had experience from previous seasons. The most interesting bout of this meet was in the 135 pound class, between Bosman of Augusta and Sloan of Washington and Lee. Bosman won by a fall in six minutes and fifty-nine seconds.

On Saturday, January the twenty-eighth we met and defeated the Woodberry Forest grapplers by the score of 26 to 10. This was the first time that we had met them since 1930. We took six of the eight bouts, winning in the 115 pound, 135 pound, 145 pound, and 175 pound classes by falls and winning the 125 pound and 165 pound classes by time advantages. Woodberry took the 155 pound class and the unlimited division by falls. The best bout was in the 135 pound class, when Bosman of Augusta won over Jones of Woodberry by a fall in four minutes and eleven seconds. Captain Clarke and Lyne showed up remarkable well, the former winning by a time advantage and Lyne winning by a fall in three minutes.

In her hird meet of the season, Augusta defeated the Draper Y. M. C. A. of Durham, North Carolina, by the score of 17-13. The best match of the evening was between Bosman, J., of Augusta and Sandro of Draper. Although Bosman lost his first fight of three seasons of wrestling, this wasn't due to his lack of efficiency. The man whom he met has for the past three years been an All-Southern wrestling champion. John, alias "Stud," Bosman did exceptionally well in losing by a time advantage of one minute. Walton wrestled a man, who, up to this time, had never been defeated, and who was last year's 165 pound wrestling champion of the South Atlantic Y. M. C. A.'s. Walton deserves credit for overcoming his opponent.

Augusta won her third consecutive meet of the current season on the following Saturday, by re-defeating Woodberry to the tune of 21-13. The feature of this meet was the battle between Scott of Woodberry and Shumate of Augusta, in the unlimited class. Scott had previously thrown Shumate, but in this meet the Augusta Star got ample revenge by gaining a time advantage over Scott of one minute and fifty-eight seconds. Another high-light of this meet was the thrilling victory of Sommerville of Augusta over Hill of Woodberry. Hill had formerly defeated "B. Mug," so with this victory, he can easily say that reverse is sweet.

After winning three consecutive meets, we dropped our next one of the season to the U. S. N. A. Plebes by the impressive score of twenty-seven to five. In this meet Coiner saved his team from being whitewashed by tossing his middie opponent, Barker, half-way in the match. Assistant Captain Bosman was defeated by a close time advantage. This, however, was his last defeat of the season. Walton lost his first bout in two seasons when Kornski gained a time advantage in an extra period. The young tars won three of their matches by falls.

On the twenty-fifth of February the Augusta matmen journeyed to Lewisburg, West Virginia, where they met and defeated the Greenbrier Military School by a score of twenty to sixteen. Coiner, Clarke, and Bosman won their bouts by falls. Augusta then lost in the 145 pound class, but winning in the 155 pound class by a fall, she was thus insured of a victory. This meet was one of the hardest fought meets of the season, and we deserve to be congratulated for "bringing home the bacon."

On the Saturday following our victory over Greenbrier we staged our last meet of the season and succeeded in re-defeating Greenbrier, twenty-three to thirteen. Four men, namely, Captain Clarke, Assistant Captain Bosman, Sommerville, and Walton were wrestling for their last appearance on the Augusta mat. All four of these mat stars wound up their Augusta wrestling careers by flipping their opponents in record time. By this victory we upheld our record of never being defeated by a prep school.

Track Resume

Our 1933 track team was most successful this season under the able coaching of Captain Leigh Williams and Captain Roy Dunn. Three meets were won and only one lost. We also placed fifth in the annual State Prep Track Meet held at the University of Virginia. The team was built around the following monogram men: Captain Fitch, Bosman, Walton, and Roger Coiner.

The season opened on April 16th, with Augusta de-

The season opened on April 16th, with Augusta defeating Hargrave. We won by a score of 62 to 55. "Kat" Coiner was high point man, with four first and two third places. "Kat" placed first in the hundred, two-twenty, broad jump and high jump, and also captured third in the discus and shot put. We took all three places in the pole vault, but Hargrave repeated that performance in the mile. Walton hurled the javelin one hundred and seventy-four feet, to break the Hargrave record in the javelin. Bosman, Faykosh, and Hall tied for first place in the pole vault. In the high hurdles, Dulaney broke the Hargrave record by running the distance in eighteen and two-tenths seconds.

On the next Saturday, Fork Union invaded our territory and was defeated sixty-three to fifty-four. Coiner, Augusta's speed merchant and broad jump star, again proved to be the attraction of the day, taking high point position with twenty-two points again. Walton hurled the javelin for a distance of one hundred and seventy-five feet and three inches, which set a new school record.

In our third track meet we were victorious, sixty-one and a half to fifty-seven and a half, making our third consecutive victorious meet of the current season. As always, Coiner was high point man, taking two first and one second place. Captain Fitch broke the Massanutten school record in the high hurdles by covering the distance in seventeen and two-tenths seconds. John Bosman and Faykosh again tied for first place in the pole vault by a height of ten feet and six inches. Coiner captured first place in the one hundred and the two-twenty.

In our final track meet of the season, the Augusta Military Academy dropped a close decision to the Greenbrier Military School, fifty-nine to fifty-eight. A second place in the final broad jump gave the West Virginians the winning tally. Coiner was again high point man, with fifteen points, making a record time of ten seconds flat in the one hundred-yard dash. He was followed in the Augusta scoring by Fitch, team captain, with ten points. One of the features of the meet was the distance that Crawford, of Greenbrier, hurled the discus, the flat side landing one hundred and twenty-three feet and six inches from the ring. Walton, for the first time, failed to place in the javelin. Burroughs, of Greenbrier, winning by a throw of one hundred and seventy-three feet and three inches.

Captain Fitch continued his winning streak in the hurdles, taking the high ones in the fast time of sixteen and seven-tenths seconds. Hodges followed second and Manning, of Greenbrier, succeeded in taking third place. In the broad jump, Coiner captured first place with twenty feet and eleven inches. Spencer missed getting third by one-half an inch, thus we had to be satisfied on the stunt end of a fifty-nine to fifty-eight scene.

Entering the state meet at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, we were able to only capture fifth place. Walton set a new state record in the javelin by hurling it one hundred and seventy-eight feet and nine inches. John Bosman captured second place in the pole vault by jumping eleven feet, but failing to make the new height of eleven feet and two inches.

Baseball Resume

Augusta this season enjoyed one of the most successful seasons that she has had in a long time. We played nineteen games, winning eighteen of these and losing one. This season we captured the state championship of Virginia and West Virginia.

We opened our 1933 baseball season with a wild twenty-one to one victory over Shenandoah College. In our second game we journeyed to Chapel Hill, North Carolina, where we beat the University of North Carolina Freshmen eleven to three.

In our third game we defeated Hargrave six to four. In making their six runs, the Augustans gathered nine hits and made three errors, while Hargrave made five hits and three errors

Augusta, in a ninth-inning rally, defeated the Mount

Sidney High School ten to nine.

We continued our victorious march by defeating Episcopal High School, ten to two. Daughtery, pitching for Augusta, only allowed four hits, while Klutz, second sacker, led the batting with three singles.

Augusta added number six to her straight string of baseball victories for the season when she defeated John Marshall High School of Richmond, thirteen to eight. Middletown College was our seventh victim, Augusta winning a pitcher's duel, four to nothing. DePoy, the Augusta pitcher, allowed one hit, walked none, and struck out sixteen.

We then extended our string of victories to eight by trimming Washington and Lee, six to two. The Freshmen out-hit Augusta eleven to seven, but we gathered our seven hits at more timely points during the game.

Aggusta won her ninth game of the season by administering a fourteen to one defeat to Massanutten in a seven-inning contest. The game was featured by Nottingham's hitting, who gathered four hits out of four times at bat, and lengthened his successive hits to seven.

Washington and Lee Freshmen invaded the Diamond at Augusta, and when they left for Lexington, they had a three to one victory neatly tucked away in their score book.

With Sutton, the pitching and batting hero of the day, the Augusta nine administered a two to five defeat to the University of Virginia Freshmen. Sutton struck out fourteen of Virginia's batsmen and gathered three hits for himself, one of which was a double.

Augusta triumphed over her ancient rivals, four to two. Three costly errors in the second inning caused the Fishburne team to lose its first game in five starts to A. M. A. Five serious scoring threats on the part of the Fishburne Cadets were lost by the inability to hit in the pinches.

In our thirteenth game of the season, we added another scalp to our baseball victories by administering a ten to three defeat to the Armstrong Junior College, of Alderson, West Virginia.

Augusta won her thirteenth baseball game in fourteen starts with a shut-out game against Fork Union, the score being four to nothing.

We again played a shut-out game against Woodberry Forrest, defeating them eight to nothing. The pitching was featured by Daughtery, who struck out twelve men and allowed only two hits.

The V. P. I. Freshmen blew up in the fifth and sixth inning of an eight-inning game, dropped to A. M. A., twelve to five.

In our seventeenth game we defeated Massanutten by the score of fifteen to five. This was our sixteenth victory in seventeen.

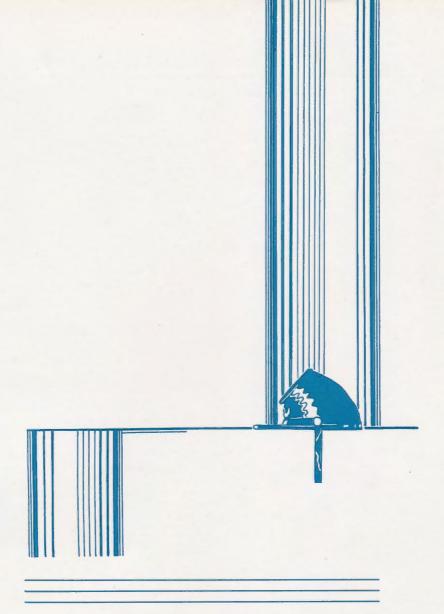

Playing her eighteenth game of the season, Augusta defeated Greenbrier, the West Virginia State Champions, eight to nothing.

We have but one game left, and as this annual must go to press, it is impossible to print it, but we are sure that Augusta will be victorious over Fishburne.

THIRD CORPS AREA CHAMPIONS

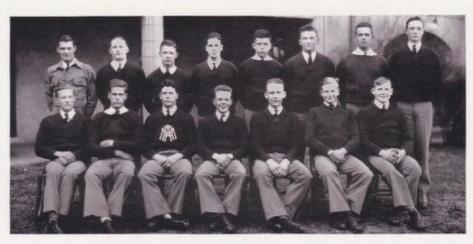

When the rifle team was organized at the beginning of the year, it had one objective in view—that of winning the Third Corps Area Rifle Match. Through the perseverence of Lieutenant Caldwell and Major Brinkley and the complete co-operation of the team members, this coveted cup was won with a high score of 3600.

This year's team distinguished itself by winning fifteen Intercollegiate matches and conquering the Senior Reserve Officers' Match in the Valley of Virginia.

There were many new men to take the places of those left vacant by last year's graduates. These new men, after being coached by able veterans, perfected themselves in the art of marksmanship.

May next year's team continue the splendid record set by '33.

Tiger Resume

The Tigers at Augusta have always been influential in developing new material for the varsity teams. This year the Tigers had a very successful season in football, and we are sure that a large percentage of the players on this team will be holding down varsity positions next year.

In football this season the Tigers' lone defeat came from the hands of Luray High School. Luray scored twenty-one points in the last half to defeat us 33-18. The Tigers won victories over Miller School, V. S. D. B., Waynesboro High, Staunton High, and Woodstock High.

In the opening game of the season the Tigers, in a sensational last minute rally, defeated the Miller School eleven 12-6. In the last minute of play Jerry Morris threw Bosman a pass, who raced across the white mark as the whistle blew ending the game.

Their second victory came when they defeated V. S. D. B. 19-7. This was the first defeat that had been registered against the "Dummies" this season.

In their third game they won a close, hard-fought victory over Waynesboro to the tune of 7-0. "Jimmie" Payne scored the winning goal. John Bosman was an important factor in breaking up the enemy passes and plays.

After winning our first three games, Luray High defeated us 33-18. At the half we were leading 18-12.

Playing our next-to-last game of the season, our flashy Tigers defeated the strong Staunton High team 7-0. Again Bosman scored the winning goal. Skeeter Clarke was a great help in gaining ground, and time after time he gained a first down by his ability to snag passes.

We then wound up our successful season by swamping the Woodstock High football team 19-0.

Sardine Resume

We Sardines won three of our five football games this season.

We opened our season by playing V. S. D. B. team and were defeated 18-6. Our next game was with Miller School, and this game spelled defeat to the tune of 24-7. This was the Sardines' last defeat of the season. Venable School was defeated 12-7 and Woodberry 20-0. Playing their last game of the season, the Sardines ran wild and scored at will to defeat the Staunton High "D" team 56-0.

The Sardines' basketball season was more successful, capturing second place in the Y. M. C. A. league.

Y. M. C. A. league.

In baseball, the Sardines had a marvelous season, winning fourteen and losing one. By these victories they won the Y. M. C. A. baseball league.

Peep Resume

The Peeps this year had a very successful season. In football they won five games and lost one. Woodberry defeated them in a last minute rally 6-0. The Peeps opened their season by defeating Fishburne Junior Varsity 52-0. In their second game of the season by defeating Fishburne Junior Varsity 52-0. In their second game of the season Woodberry threw a lucky pass in the fourth quarter and defeated them 6-0. This was the last defeat of the season. After losing to Woodberry, they defeated Greenbrier 26-0. McColly accounted for two of these touchdowns, while Roper and Alexander accounted for one apiece. The Peeps then swamped Lane High 56-12, and Greenbrier 14-2. Two days before Thanksgiving the Peeps wound up their season by administering a 37-0 defeat to the Staunton High Team.

Their success in basketball was not so great, as in a league of eight teams the Peeps were able to obtain only fourth place.

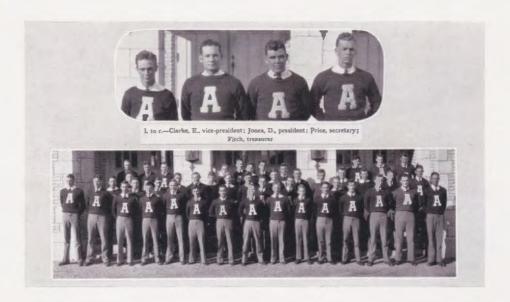

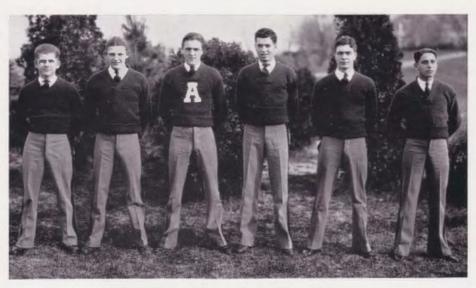

Monogram Club

Wearers of the Major "A"! Strong men all; courageous and true; each possessed of that quality, "intestinal fortitude." Those who wear the coveted monogram are looked upon with all the respect and admiration possible; for those men have fought, bled, and given their all that Augusta might add another victory to the long list. Those men have practiced 'til they could hardly stand firmly on two feet; long hours of grinding toil, doing the same thing time after time, in effort to whip bodies and brains into perfect co-ordination, have bowed and bent many a body but failed to break a single determination. The Major Monogram stands for self-denial, hours of struggle and work, and finally, superiority in athletics. They have tried and succeeded! attempted and completed! competed and won!

Managers

Every athletic team has its stars, it has its drudges, men who work hard and get but little glory for their trouble; but there is one man connected with every team that is a most important cog in the team's machine, and who receives nothing but an occasional "Thank You" for his work; that man is the manager. The manager must supply every want of the team and the coach, must arrange for the team's comfort in every way. Of course, the team knows him and depends on him, but the "outsiders" are hardly aware of his presence. Even at that, the managers are known for their cheerful smiles, they cheer their team after a defeat, praise them after a victory, encourage them before every contest, and work for them through the grind of practice in order to produce a smooth working machine.

Heretofore it has been the custom to present each manager with a minor monogram, but this year, Major Roller decided to discontinue the awarding of all minor monograms, and as a result the only compensation will be the praise contained herein, meager as it is. However, the Recall would endeavor to show those that do not realize the manager's arduous task, that these boys deserve as much credit as any member of the team-proper.

The staff of managers and their assistants, this year, have done their work well and have proven their worth innumerable times. Even Major Roller has said that Billy Baker is one of the best football managers that has ever held this post. Joe Kaar did the honors for the basketball team with the help of Igou. Happer managed the fast working boys of the "square circle," and Hively worked with the "grapple and grunt men," or the wrestling team. Macey, assisted by Bailey, efficiently kept the swimmers in form. Levitan and Brewer succeeded in bringing the track and the baseball teams through a successful season.

Officers of the Student Body

The greatest honor that the cadets of A. M. A. can bestow on a fellow man is to consider him worthy of membership on the executive body of the students.

When a man is elected to the Student Body, he automatically assumes an office on the Honor Committee and the Athletic Association. It is clearly demonstrated by the above facts that the men chosen must be honest, efficient and willing to work. Of this year's officers we need only say that no better ones could have been selected.

We of the class of '33 wish to thank Dick Bailey, our President; Skeeter Clarke, Vice-President; Sid Minor, Secretary, and Joe Timberlake, Treasurer, for their ceaseless effort and success in making this a fine year.

Honor Committee

A. M. A. is justly proud of her honor traditions. When the school was founded, one of its basic fundamentals was the conduct of her students in the class room and in the barracks. Thus the Honor Committee was organized to enforce the honor that was born when the school was founded. The Committee consists of the four officers of the Student Body and eight cadets elected at large from the corps. The duty of the Committee is to act on all questions of honor that may arise in school life.

Our Honor Committee this year carried out its duty to the best of its ability. We shall take this time to congratulate the members—Bailey, Clarke, Minor, Timberlake, Bew, Shomo, Macey, Jones, D., Bernier, Hannum, Reed, and Bethea.

The Ciceronian Literary Society plays a very important part in the educational activities of the school. It is controlled by the cadets and is under the direct supervision of Major Roller. He has been very kind in devoting his time in teaching the cadets to direct this organization according to Parliamentary Laws.

The Society meets once a week, and at Finals the Society holds its last meeting and the winners of the debate and declamations are awarded medals.

Ad Astra Per Aspera Fraternity

In the year, 1925, Major Charles S. Roller founded the only fraternity that Augusta has ever had. The purpose of this was to select the ten most outstanding men in the school. It is not based on any one activity along such as military and an any one activity along such as military and an any one activity along such as military and an any one activity along such as military and an any one activity along such as military and an any one activity along such as military and an any one activity along such as military and an any one activity along such as military and an any one activity along such as military and an any one activity along such as military and an analong such as military and mi school. It is not based on any one activity alone, such as military, academic, or social, but is a combination of the three. Every year Colonel and Major Roller, with the ten oldest members of the faculty, in their point of service, cast their vote for the men, who in their opinion, possess all the qualities of a perfect gentleman and loyal cadet of Their motto is: "We do not court popularity, but we do place Service and Loyalty next to Godliness."

We were very fortunate this year to have back with us, an Ad Astra man of the class of '32, Cadet Lieutenant Quartermaster Conrad Weiland.

The Y. M. C. A. is an organization founded in the early years of the school. It has grown from infancy to be one of the most important factors in school life. It is run wholly by and for the cadets, and each of its programs is of entertaining and beneficiary importance to them. We, the cadets, are exceedingly proud of our "Y," as it is one of the largest student organizations of its kind in this part of the country. Every year it has been able to increase its membership.

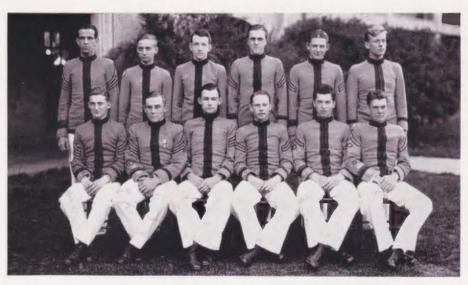

The Y. M. C. A. is really an institution of learning in many ways. The best speakers in the state are approached and gotten to speak or lecture at the "Y." The best possible musical programs are secured for the corps' entertainment. We wish to thank the "Y" for their interest in every phase of A. M. A. life. Their interest to the individual and to the corps was superb. One is not capable of realizing the many benefits that develop through affiliation with the Y. M. C. A.

We also commend the great work that the "Y" does in that it helps the individual boy that comes from a Christian home in close contact with God.

Never yet has a visitor failed to speak of the ease and the grace of the boys at the Y. M. C. A. during the chain prayers, in which all the cadets take part.

Captain Webb, our faculty adviser, has devoted much time in developing the entertaining programs for the meetings. We are very much indebted to him for his kind interest as we are to Mrs. Robinson for rendering all the music for our singing. Both, through their work, have made the "Y" at A. M. A. a very valuable institution. The class of '33 sincerely hopes that the Y. M. C. A. will continue to grow in the future as it has in the last few years. We know that it has been one of the greatest assets in bringing the Spirit of God to the cadets.

Recall Staff

The Recall Staff of 1933 so aspires! Doubt you not the sincerity of our aspirations, for knowing full well that the destiny of this record of our Augusta life was to be in our hands, we were determined to make the picture real, vivid, in a word, to reproduce, with all the art, knowledge, and skill at our command, the days that we have lived. We would capture that spirit that animated the association of our classmates, so that memory, uncertain and unreliable, would not have to preserve the undeniable beauty of our friendships. We would have pictures that portray scenes of universal appeal, that recall near-forgotten incidents.

Now assuming that you have staggered through that ponderous and pendantic initial paragraph, consider. Those are noble motives unquestionably, but any staff that could assimilate them and be inspired by them would be nothing less than a conglomeration of perverts. We undertook to publish a Recall because it was rather a thing to do, it's been done since Confucious was a corporal, you know, and because we temporarily harbored a misdirected sense of ambition. Monetary remuneration was utterly nil. Such appalling integrity on our part is painful to contemplate, but, persevering reader, what a bolster it was to our impecable code of ethics.

Now, may we give you an idea of who is responsible for this rather poor but exceedingly sincere effort. Our Co-Editors, Roper and Mark, did their part efficiently and well. Minor, Somerville, Hoy, Sproul, and Bailey did their bit for dear old "Siwash" by handling the business department and coming through without leaving a deficit for Major Roller to rave about. Macey, with the help of Baker and Bennett, did his best to make the book readable, and acted in the capacity of Literary Editor. Happer herein gives his slant on what sports should be at Augusta. We offer praise to Streeter for his excellent art work and Dixon for his photographic department, and lest we forget—the typist—Smith.

Orchestra

THE BLACK DRAGONS

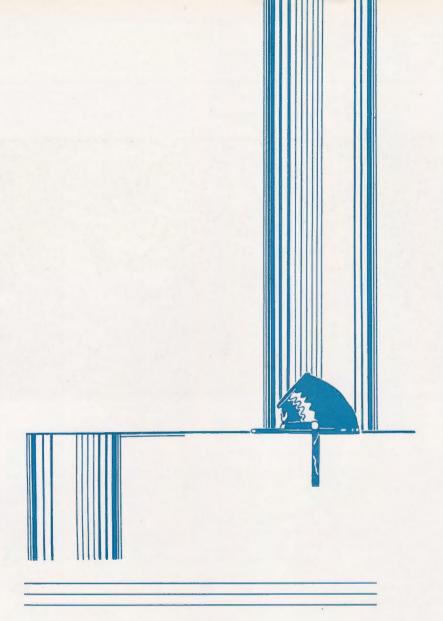

The cadets are indeed indebted to this musical organization which has been one of the main factors in the making of a successful social year at Augusta. Under the able direction of "Dave" Graham, the orchestra played excellently for all our informal dances. There is no doubt in our mind that this is one of the most outstanding orchestras that A. M. A. has ever produced.

The members gave the greater part of their spare time in producing a reputation among the schools in this section of the country, and consequently were given many bids to render music at both formal and informal engagements throughout the state.

In closing, may we mention the dance given by the orchestra. They decorated the gym in a very unique way and all in all they gave us one of the best informals of the year.

Social

The Cotillion Club

In spite of "Old Man Depression" prevailing at all our social functions this year, A. M. A. may still boast of the best prep school dances in the South.

The men of the Cotillion Club were the choice of the Corps, and we were all satisfied with our selection. Cadet Captain Bew, Somerville, Minor, and Weiland were elected as officers. They selected as their assistants, respectively, the following men: Cadet Lieutenant Baker, Cadet Corporal S. Webber, Cadet Platoon Sergeant Macey, and Cadet Captain Clarke. Later in the year the following cadets were added: Bailey, Roper, Fitch, Timberlake, Mark.

This year was opened with a large informal, and it would be unfair if we didn't say it was the best informal A. M. A. has ever had. The dance was led by Cadet Lieutenant Weiland with Miss Eileen Howard, and Cadet Captain E. Clarke with Miss Sylvia Sidney.

The Turkey Day dances, with many beautiful girls, a good orchestra (Dunny Licklider), and the aftermath of beating Fishburne were not short of perfect. These dances were led by Cadet Captain Sid Minor, with Miss Lucy James, and Cadet Platoon Sergeant John Macey, with Miss Margaret Bohn.

Midwinters were unusually peppy and the decorations were perhaps the most beautiful ever seen in the A. M. A. gym. Leading these dances were Cadet Captain "Lou" Somerville, with Miss Jane Seymour, and Cadet Corporal Slade Webber, with Miss Lyons.

We are glad to say that our Easter dances couldn't have been better. We owe credit to the exceptionally fine music of the Pennsylvania Ramblers, and the unique decorations, never failing to mention the fairer sex. The Easter dances were led by Cadet George Bew with Miss Rose Williams, and Cadet Lieutenant Bill Baker with Miss Polly Updegraff.

The Final Ball

The Final Ball of '33 will be held in our annals forever and be recalled with the greatest pleasure. The pages of our school life of '33 have all been read, and we were fortunate to have such a Final Ball to close our story and end a typical climax to the happy year of '33.

We of the RECALL Staff wish to congratulate Cadet Louis Somerville and his able assistants, Bailey, Bew, and Minor, for their great work and for giving us a dance that far surpassed our greatest hopes.

The Final Ball was led by Cadet Somerville with Miss Seymour, and assisted by Cadet Bailey with Miss Knox, and Cadet Bew with Miss Copeland, and Cadet Minor with Mrs. Minor, and Cadet Roper with Miss Grattan.

The evening was started with a flourish of bugles and the figure was under way before we knew it. The beautiful girls and mothers in their lovely gowns held us in wonder until the figure started to take form, and then the officers with the flashing gold and silver caught our eye. The figure was excellent, and the beauty and the magnificence of it all made us a bit prouder to know that we were A. M. A. cadets.

The Don DeForest Orchestra furnished us with all the new numbers and granted our every request. To them we also owe our gratitude for their service in making this a successful Final Ball.

The moments slipped by unnoticed, a happy and joyous group, never realizing that in a few brief hours the Final Ball of '33 would be a past thing.

With joy in our hearts, little did we realize that with the end of the dance would come the end of the merriment of loyal friends. Perhaps if we had taken the time to consider this, probably our night would not have been so gay

But now it's past, and for a great number of us our cadet days are over and in later years if only the walls of the gymnasium might re-echo the joy of our last night together, we would realize more fully that it was the happiest night spent at old Augusta.

IF YOU WANT TO SUCCEED!

As a young man who looks forward to a successful business or professional career, when school and college days are over, you cannot learn too early to save money. Here are six sound reasons why your first investment should be life insurance:

- I By the time you are an old man you will have lived through at least five depressions. And depressions do not depreciate life insurance savings.
- 2 Although a man can save his money by other methods, few of us do.
- 3 You do not need to save money to buy life insurance, but you can buy life insurance to save money.
- 4 Life insurance puts to your credit what you hope and expect to have if you live and if you are successful with your investments.
- 5 The scrapping age arrives some day and when it does arrive there must be money or there will be misery.
- 6 Men die too soon or live too long for any other form of investment than life insurance.

The School Annual

X marining management and the second management of the second managemen

E DO not think—not publicly, at least—that we are the only people who print school annuals properly. Many printers do as good work as we, and a few do better, perhaps. But those that do better, charge a great deal more. We believe we are the second largest printers of annuals in Virginia. We know that year after year we print the same books, which indicates that our customers like our work. Furthermore we usually do any new annual that is put out in our territory, which indicates that our work is appreciated where we are best known. We always strive to carry out intelligently and in good taste the theme a staff selects. "Intelligence," "good taste," what wonderful words are these when applied to an annual. They mean that the printer is to enter into the spirit of the work and transfer to the printed page the vision of beauty pictured in the mind of the editor. They mean that he is to guard the staff against the visionary, the gaudy, and the needlessly expensive, by constructive and conscientious advice.
